LAUNCH SITE 3

Launch Site 3 of the Kostroma ICBM Complex is located at 57-59N 41-09E in a wooded area approximately 13.8 nautical miles north-northeast of the complex support facility. It consists of a completed Type IIB launch site, [REDACTED]

This site has only one missile-ready building, which is not uncommon for this type of site. A building, immediately adjacent to the ready building, has remained in an externally complete stage for at least one year. There is no paved access to it. Preparation to earth mound this building was apparently started, but discontinued. No specific function can be assigned to it.
